The school uniform of the future.

There are some amazing fabric's used in clothing these days. Fabrics that are wind proof, water resistant, breathable and warm enough for the coldest places on Earth are worn by most people everyday!

Sadly not all clothing can be super dry, lightweight and cool. School uniforms can be notoriously boring and uncomfortable. So if you were in charge what would you design as the school uniform of the future?

Use the manikin below to design and colour what a smart, suitable and stylish uniform should look like. Your design should include annotated research into suitable fabric's, colours, patterns, fasteners and features (e.g. waterproof, fair-trade, non-crease...). You could also include sample materials, images and other research.

Keep your design realistic! If this were a real product it would have to be affordable and appealing to everyone.
